COLLABORATION

As a CRNA at UAB, you will collaborate with attending physicians to plan and administer competent, compassionate, and patient-centered anesthesia services. This requires teamwork, professionalism, respect, and continual communication between CRNAs and providers. Outside of the operating room, CRNAs serve on interdisciplinary committees and lead a number of projects designed to improve quality and deliver more effective care. They work closely with UAB's multiple simulation labs to develop training, facilitate research, and implement positive change. They also instruct and train student registered nurse anesthetists (SRNAs).
